

T.E.A.C.H.

Teaching Excellence Achieved through Collaborative
Hands-On Experiences

The T.E.A.C.H. Program

Designed for aspiring educators—high school students, service year participants, and early career professionals—the T.E.A.C.H. Program introduces learners to the dynamic and impactful field of education through a student-centered, reflective, and hands-on approach.

Why T.E.A.C.H.?

As the U.S. faces a historic teacher shortage, the T.E.A.C.H. Program provides a strategic solution to recruit, prepare, and inspire the next generation of educators!

- Designed for aspiring educators in grades 11–12, service year programs, or teacher apprenticeships
- Aligned with national educator preparation standards
- Supports pathways to teacher licensure
- Centers student identity, voice, and self-worth

Who Should Implement T.E.A.C.H.?

- State departments of education
- School districts building educator pipelines
- Career and technical education (CTE) programs
